

* ENGINEERING FIRM MOVES DOWNTOWN. In June, ZCS Engineering moved to 550-C S.W. Sixth St., in the recently completed Plaza Building, formerly the Wheeler Toyota building, in downtown Grants Pass.

Established in 1979, the Klamath Falls-based company had been at 1654 Williams Highway since it opened a Grants Pass branch in 2006.

ZCS is a multi-disciplined civil, structural and geo-technical engineering firm that also has offices in Bend and Portland. The company provides engineering services for residential, commercial and public improvement projects.

ZCS's Grants Pass branch was part of the design team for the city of Grants Pass' Redwood and Parkway public safety stations, both now under construction.

Completed projects have been Sonic drive-ins in Medford, Klamath Falls and Springfield; Dr. John Hendy's dental office building on Williams Highway in Grants Pass; and the Mount Sexton lookout tower.

Still in progress are projects that include Lee's Mini Storage's expansion and a new Fruitdale Market on Rogue River Highway, plus an expansion of Taylor's Sausage Country Store in Cave Junction.

ZCS owners include Richard Zbinden, vice president and founder; Russell Carter, president; and Scott Souders, general manager.

Sylas Allen, a registered professional engineer in both Oregon and California, is branch manager of the Grants Pass location. Also in the office is Justin Gerlitz, a registered professional engineer in Oregon, and Hailey Eells, office and marketing manager.

The Grants Pass office can be reached at 479-3865 during business hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday

Susan Goracke, reporter
The Daily Courier
Grants Pass, Oregon
(541) 474-3725
news02@thedailycourier.com